PRESS RELEASE

Introducing A New TV Network

FREE on All Roku TV's & Devices

Atlanta, GA – 4/14/23 – Vernicia Respres, a visionary entrepreneur and advocate for arts education, is proud to announce the launch of Brushed TV, a new streaming TV network dedicated to providing free art and lifestyle classes to people all over the world.

With a mission to democratize access to creative education and empower individuals to pursue their passions, Brushed TV will offer a wide variety of classes, including painting, drawing, cooking, yoga, and more. All classes will be taught by expert instructors and will be available to stream 24/7, free of charge.

As a lifelong creative, Vernicia understands the importance of representation and access in the creative arts. She hopes that Brushed TV will inspire people of all ages and backgrounds to explore their creativity and pursue their dreams, regardless of financial or geographical barriers.

"I am thrilled to launch Brushed TV and bring free art and lifestyle classes to people all over the world," said Vernicia. "Art is a universal language that has the power to connect us all and inspire us to create positive change. With Brushed TV, we hope to make creative education accessible to everyone and inspire a new generation of artists, chefs, yogis, and more."

In addition to offering free classes, Brushed TV will eventually expand its programming to feature interviews with leading artists and creatives, as well as behind-the-scenes glimpses into the creative process. The network is currently available on Roku streaming platforms with a plan to expand to more in the future.

Vernicia is excited to partner with a team of talented producers, directors, and educators to bring Brushed TV to life. She is grateful for the support of her family and friends, as well as the broader community of artists and educators who have helped her bring this vision to reality.
